Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

Hubert Hollingworth was one of Edmonton's most outstanding photographers and was a founding member of the Edmonton Camera Club. He also operated his own photographic studio as well as working as a photographer for McDermid Studio, The Edmonton Journal, and the Edmonton Bulletin. Upon retirement in 1976 Mr. Hollingworth took up part time work copying and cataloguing photographs, many of them his own, at the City of Edmonton Archives. Mr. Hollingworth died in January 1988.

Scope and content

---

The fonds consists of materials collected or created by Hubert A. Hollingworth and dating between 1914 and 1974. The fonds consists of various souvenir programs, a post card album, high school newsletters, maps, and newspaper clippings relating to Edmonton's history, a memorial of Frank Hollingworth and his work with early radio, and photography booklets and catalogues. The fonds consists of approximately 3,000 of his photographs, documenting life in Edmonton during the 1930s, 1940s, and 1950s.

| Scope and content:                             |

The glass slides in the Hubert Hollingworth fonds were created by many people and consist of various subjects including missionary work in Northern British Columbia and Alberta, China, Afghanistan, Africa, and India; Pre-World War II England; World War II; archaeology; and anatomy.

Religious Slides

The majority of these slides belonged to missionary Mr. Charles O. Bowen, a Welsh immigrant. Mr. Bowen's religious slides consist of nature photographs, often mountain scenes, which have a biblical scripture and/or hymns transposed onto them.

Medical Slides

Some of these slides can be attributed to professors at the University of Alberta:

Dr. Evan Greene (1873-1966) was one of Alberta's earliest doctors. He was a surgeon and an anatomist. The subject of his slides is anatomy.

Dr. Ralph Faust Shaner (1893-1976) was an anatomist, professor, and head of the University of Alberta's Department of Anatomy. His slides represent many of the courses that he taught such as histology, embryology, and neuroanatomy.

Dr. Maxwell Mordecai Cantor (1903-1981) was the provincial coroner and a biochemist at the University of Alberta. The slides digitized from Dr. Cantor are of the pathology of disease.

Other Slides

There are several other subjects addressed in the glass slides: Quebec, Vancouver, the Rocky Mountains, Saskatchewan, the Canadian West, First Nations people, World War II, reconstruction in Britain after the war, and farm animals.
